

Seeing the Light: in the company of St Cuthbert and our cameras

Come and spend a few special days in the wonderful Northumbrian countryside, listening again to the amazing stories of Cuthbert, and opening ourselves like him to see God at work all around us. A special feature of our time will be the opportunity to use our cameras (any size, any skill!) to help us look with fresh eyes too, with priest-photographer Steve Radley, and Anglo-Saxon specialist (and amateur snapper) Bishop David Thomson guiding us as we do. The week will include trips to both Holy Island and Durham, and time for creative crafts with some materials provided (bring your own too).
